ACTION OF MOB AT SPARKS REPORTED YESTERDAY

Sardis Summerfield, United States District Attorney, Says the Matter Will Be Investigated by Postal Authorities

CONSTERNATION and surprise was written on the faces of more than half the population of Sparks yesterday morning [illegible] to the [illegible] place to [illegible] and found that the postoffice had disappeared during the night. [illegible] the office [illegible] with the [illegible] of the citizens [illegible] of the postoffice was [illegible] most [illegible] upon [illegible] on them [illegible] they propose to either move [illegible] office back to its original location or take steps to have it moved by law.

The office was opened in its new quarters yesterday morning and all [illegible] people were rushing up and down the sidewalk inquiring where the postoffice had been located. Two large placards placed on the glass front of the building denote its whereabouts. The new building is quite large and commodious and is a great improvement over the former location.

In speaking of the facts as presented [illegible] yesterday morning Postmaster Jones said:

The facts as set forth in the Journal were correct. I consider that the [illegible] was perfectly fair and impartial [illegible] the fact that the body of citizens was called a mob is in reality of no consequence. I suppose it is just as well to call them a mob as anything else.

The matter it is understood has already been reported to the postal authorities and inspectors are expected at Sparks perhaps today. Sardis Summerfield, United States Attorney for Nevada, when seen yesterday afternoon was not in a position to give an official opinion.

"The matter," said Mr. Summerfield, "has not reached my hands. It must first be investigated by the postal authorities and then if action is taken it will perhaps come under my jurisdiction. I have not investigated the case. It is unlawful for any one to interfere with the transit of the United States mail without sanction from the government. From what I have read of the case I believe the law has been violated at Sparks."

> "FROM what I have read of it I believe the law has been violated at Sparks"—From statement made by Sardis Summerfield, the United States District Attorney.

Rash Act of a Drink-Crazed Man

WITH HIS LIFE BLOOD HE WRITES FAREWELL MESSAGE

William J. Hutton Slashes Wrists and Throat With Razors and Threatens Roommate With Death in Mad and Futile Effort to Die

> "WAGNER asked me to do some steam fitting. I am a plumber, not a steam fitter. I told him I could do it and went to the house and did the work. Last night when I went into the Barrel House and sat down to a game of cards a bunch of steam fitters jumped me because I did the work and had no card. After I went to bed I heard them at my door—heard them say I stole [illegible] from Melville. There is a Jack Hutton north of here. I'll get him, one said. I thought I would settle it [illegible] than be slashed by them. If I get well I'll get every one of them. I'm a revengeful man. I'll carry something that will do it. I'll not take another drink. I want to [illegible] fifty cents. Drink and my companions are responsible for this. I thought I was going when I wrote the messages."—Statement made by would-be suicide.

"I FORGIVE you all. Hutton." [illegible] bloody [illegible] by the finger of [illegible] William J. Hutton [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] getting out the door and rushed to the [illegible] station returning with two officers to whom Hutton surrendered. [illegible] was then [illegible] to the police station and shortly afterward conveyed to the county hospital where his wounds were dressed by Dr. Walker. [illegible] At 1 o'clock in the afternoon when everything was quiet in the hospital ward [illegible] [illegible]

McGrath, his roommate, has been with him during the three months while they roomed together at the Pacific House and they were the best of friends. He is a fellow plumber helping Hutton financially when the latter was unable to work.

The circumstances leading up to the attempt [illegible] and during it are best detailed by McGrath.

Last night (Wednesday) when I quit work I gave him a meal ticket and he went away to eat. That was the last I saw of him until about 1 o'clock this morning when I came home from a dance and being awful tired I went to bed by his side and quickly fell asleep. He had been playing cards in the Star [illegible] House during the evening. When I came to our room I found the door locked, something very unusual. It was never locked before. I asked him what he had the door locked for. He said:

"Will you do me a favor?" And he says, "Go down to the Barrel House and ask Sam if there are any guys hunting for me." He looked queer at me but I was used to seeing him drunk before. I noticed him this time because he had been working for two days and I thought he couldn't be drunk.

He then said that there were five fellows going to dig into him. I replied that I'll see that none get in. Then we both went to bed. I don't know what time it was that I heard

ARMY LASS MAY BE PARDONED

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—A former Salvation Army girl, Inga Hanson, who was sent to the Joliet penitentiary for alleged perjury in connection with a personal injury suit against the Chicago City Railway company, will probably be pardoned by Governor Deneen.

Physicians state that organically there is nothing wrong with her but functionally she is all disordered. They declare that death will ensue unless she is released.

ALARM CREATED BY GIRL HIDING JEWELS

Valuable Diamond Necklace, Secreted for Safety by Lady Employe, Causes Great Excitement to her Employers and Detectives

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—A girl employe cautious in hiding a piece of diamond jewelry over night resulted in the alarm today that a necklace worth several thousand dollars had been stolen. Until the girl herself arrived to reveal the missing jewel's hiding place the William Scheers manufacturing jewelry establishment was closed to every one except detectives and employes, the latter being positively forbidden to leave the place.

The girl who works as a polisher, appeared at work late and said that not having finished the burnishing of the jewelry before the safe was closed last night she had hidden it. The baffled detectives and the force of employes was led by the girl to the place where she worked last night and there the necklace was still concealed.

Try to Save Poet's Tomb

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—The American Scenic and Historic Preservation Society has taken the preliminary steps to establish a park in the Bronx to preserve the grave of Joseph Rodman Drake, author of "Ode to the American Flag," "The Culprit Fay" and other poems. An appeal has been made to the city authorities and to the public in general and it is expected that the required funds will be forthcoming. The site will be completely obliterated by a projected street unless the park is created. The poet's grave is one of about sixty in Hunt's Graveyard on Hunt's Point. The cemetery is filled at present with bushes and wild growths of all kinds. Half the gravestones are broken, some are upside down and others are propped up against trees or other gravestones.

Careless Officers Lose Licenses

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19.—For alleged unskillfulness and neglect resulting in the stranding of the steamer Santa Barbara near Gualala Point on October 1st the United States local inspectors suspended the license of Captain Zaddart for three months, First Officer F. Johnson for six months and Second Mate Arthur Self for nine months.

ROYAL WELCOME IN SOUTH FOR PRESIDENT

Thousands of Loyal Americans Line the Path of Roosevelt's Journey of Peace Through Dixie Land

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Oct. 19.—The ovation to President Roosevelt received during his journey through a portion of Virginia yesterday, continued today as he traveled through North Carolina. A feature of the day was his visit to the fair in progress at Raleigh. The president's train passed through Mount Zion at 10:29 o'clock tonight, exactly on schedule time.

Tomorrow the President will pay a visit to Roswell, the home of his mother. From there he will go to Atlanta, where most of the day will be spent.

Mrs. Roosevelt will leave him when the capital of Georgia is reached and will return to Washington.

During President Roosevelt's thirty minutes' stay in Charlotte tonight he was given a reception most enthusiastic in character by 25,000 people.

Through the brilliantly lighted streets he was rapidly conveyed in a motor car for four blocks to Vance Park where he spoke for fifteen minutes. He created the wildest enthusiasm by referring to the widow of General Stonewall Jackson. When the President was introduced to Mrs. Jackson he took her by the hand and held it fully five minutes.

"Mrs. Jackson, you don't know how glad I am to meet you. It is worth the whole trip down here to have a chance to shake your hand."

Mrs. Jackson entertained Mrs. Roosevelt at her home assisted by 100 Charlotte women.

After Mrs. Roosevelt returned to her car she sent a handsome bouquet of American beauty roses and a note to Mrs. Jackson.

RASH ACT OF CRAZED MAN

W. J. Hutton Slashes Wrists and Throat With Razors in Mad Effort to Die

him get up as I was sleepy. Next time I woke up it was about 6 o'clock and he was on me with both knees and I saw a razor in each hand. It was about daylight, but I turned the light on when I jumped up, and witnessed a horrible sight.

"'What have you been doing?' I exclaimed. 'Give me those razors.' He then laid one on a chair.

"'There is a bunch of fellows out there at the door.'

"I noticed the blood spurting from both wrists and throat. He then made a slash at me with the razor.

"'You don't want to kill me, do you?' I asked.

"'Don't you go out of that door. If you do I'll make short work of you,' he shouted.

"So I stayed in to keep him from doing more to himself and to me. He then stepped before the mirror and asking where his jugular veins were he began to slash again at his throat. I rushed to him and stopped him.

"'That's what I want; now I can die. Goodbye.' And he sat on the bed. I then saw my chance, and thinking he was going to bleed to death I hurried out. When the police and I returned he had locked the door. Upon a demand to open it he did so and stood before us, a razor in each hand. He was told to put those razors down, and to our surprise he obeyed. We then took him away to the hospital.

"The room was smeared with blood, on the walls and the floor and bed, and the scene was horrible to view. He was a fine fellow when sober and the only reason I can give for his actions is that it was the result of the reaction after his prolonged spree. His mind was affected, thinking some men were after him to kill him, and he intended to forestall their work by such a act. I might have been foolish and let him go out, but I used my own judgment. I stayed to keep him from doing worse. I understand that he told Happy Kelly that if he couldn't cut the booze out, he would do the Dutch act a month ago."

The housekeeper said in reference to the tragic affair:

"He came to my room at 11 o'clock and said there were some men after him. Then he came again about 2 o'clock.

"'They say I stole their money and I didn't,' he said.

"I told him to go to bed; there was nobody after him. He had been drunk for a number of days."

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Grimstead entertained about thirty of their friends last evening at their home, a mile east of town. The special guests were Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Hardin, who arrived from South Africa about ten days ago and William Lake from Costa Rica.

BUSINESS MEN ARE HELPING

Business men of Reno are lending every encouragement to Mrs. Garwood in the preliminary work of opening the Nevada Chamber of Commerce. Mrs. Garwood, though not able to do much work yesterday, stated that in the brief time she was out her work exceeded the most gratifying results among the Reno business men of Wednesday. Only four firms were approached and in every instance the project looking to the securing of a goodly sum from Reno's active and progressive citizens was warmly championed and substantially rewarded.

The unanimous opinion thus far seems to be that the movement looking to the immediate enlargement of the work of the Nevada Chamber of Commerce is worthy of the heartiest encouragement. In the two days that Mrs. Garwood has explained the situation to Reno's business men she has not met with one dissenter. Not one objection has been raised, but all appear to be ready and waiting for the call of the secretary with her little receipt book.

It is indeed most gratifying to every man who wishes to witness the growth and development of the industries and resources of Nevada and we are proud that Reno has been asked to be the first to endorse the enterprise and prouder that her citizens are so willing to lend their moral and substantial support.

JUDGE GIVES LIGHT PENALTY

Because He Did Not Run Away After Committing Deed Leniency is Extended

James Burns, the man convicted of assault with a deadly weapon, was brought into the district court yesterday morning for sentence. Judge Curler after stating that he was ready to extend leniency in view of his having surrendered himself after the act, sentenced Burns to a term of fourteen months. The prisoner will be taken to Carson, this noon, by Sheriff Ferrel.

The punishment is looked upon as exceedingly light, considering the seriousness of the offense. It will be remembered that Burns entered the Pyramid saloon last August, and drawing a huge gun, fired several shots promiscuously, there being a number of occupants in the saloon at the time. He then departed, and gave himself up to an officer.

Passed a Quiet Day

INTIMATION IS REFUTED

Mr. Harrison Indignantly Denies That He Ever Sold Whiskey to Dead Indian

Following is taken from the Carson News of Wednesday evening.

"Mixologist Poses as Archeologist"

"William Harrison of the Overland hotel in Reno rushes into print relative to the find of prehistoric bones in the Blackwell artesian well yesterday. The Journal says:

"In scientific circles around Reno the discovery reported in the News was discussed at length last evening. William Harrison of the Overland hotel is of the opinion that possibly a prehistoric burying ground has been discovered.

"It is hardly possible, however," said Mr. Harrison, who has devoted considerable time to scientific research, that the well borers are using a large drill and while in the upper strata pierced a deposit several hundred years prior to prehistoric times. I am inclined to the belief from this distance the well borers have succeeded in bringing to the surface the portion of an Indian I knew while I was tending bar in Carson a few years ago.'

"Mr. Harrison neglects to state the particulars of his acquaintance with the Indian while he was tending bar in Carson. The News would advise Mr. Harrison to talk more cautiously as 'whiskey to Indians' is a crime not barred by the statute of limitations."

"I am surprised that the solare editor of the Carson News should question my motive in reply to the fabricated portions of that dead Indian," said Mr. Harrison Wednesday evening, after reading a copy of the News. "Now the truth of the matter is, if liquor must be brought into the discussion, that Indian had not been under the influence of liquor for a score who I knew him. He had taken the Keeley cure. He had no taste for liquor therefore I am cleared of the charge initiated in the News. Science shows that whisky is a preservative. In the event of the carcass of that red man is unearthed I would suggest examining the bones and if they are perfectly preserved, as the use of alcohol would certainly be as a preservative I am willing to plead guilty."

Costumes for "Phedre" have been ordered from Godeau's the costumers of San Francisco. o19

MURDERERS TO BE SENTENCED

Slayers of Jack Welch Will Receive Their Last Sentence Tomorrow

The four men, Sevener, Gorman, Williams and Roberts, convicted of the murder of Jack Welch, on the Southern Pacific train about three years ago, will be brought to Reno from Carson today for resentence. They will be brought into the district court Saturday morning and after sentence is pronounced the quartet will be taken immediately back to the penitentiary, where they will be confined until the date set for the execution.

With the Actor Folk

In Addition to the Present High Class Attractions Many Others Are Billed for the Near Future

Reno people always appreciate a good thing.

The Elleford had another crowded house last evening to witness the production of "Jimtown Folks Abroad." The play while laid in England, is of western flavor and is full of good, wholesome comedy. The principle character that of Howling Hank was taken by Walter Whipple who gave an excellent performance of the man from Jimtown. Lloyd Edwards gave his best work of the week in the role of Lord Wesley, an impoverished nobleman trying for an American heiress, while Gunn made the most of his opportunity as Archie Winthrop. Metta Chamberlain was in her element as Eileen Weatherford. George Hortance and Mattie Lace contributed to the comedy as Godfrey Carly and Ethel Osborne. A neat bit of work was Wallace Howe Wilson. The specialties were also well received.

Tonight the Ellefords will present for the first time in Reno the late Sydney Russell's quaint comedy, "A Poor Relation." The piece is full of strong acts interspersed with an abundance of comedy and strong situations. The plot deals with a clergyman of a poor inventor whose plans are stolen but returned by the wife whose children he has taken care of while she was in the hospital.

Next week specialties will be given by Lillian Dellker and Mattie Lloyd.

The children's delight, "Fun in a Boarding School," will be given at the matinee tomorrow afternoon.

Prices to the matinee have been placed at 15 and 25 cents. Children any part of the opera house.

WHAT THE GRAND IS DOING

This week at the Grand is not as strong as to the character and variety of the numbers on the bill as the average week, neither is the attendance as strong—easily accounted for as to the latter by the fact that the vaudeville attractions in Reno this week are stronger than usual and the business is naturally divided.

The Grand is here when these other opportunities are only occasional and the public act accordingly. And who can blame the dear public—it is ever hungry for variety and something new and different.

But the Grand ever holds its own. The loop rollers and juggers, the Rooneys, give some entertaining work in their line.

Lester, the "Warbler of the Screen," comes on smilingly with his share in the evening's enjoyment, in a brand new song.

"The Congress of Nations" is a drawing card anywhere and the comedy work of the Dowlings is not bad.

Then are the usual interesting moving pictures and no one can complain about not getting their money's worth.

"PINAFORE" NEXT WEEK

Probably no amateur performance has ever created so much interest as centered in the forthcoming production of the comic opera, "Pinafore," or "The Lass that Loved a Sailor," at McKissick's opera house on the nights of October 24th and 25th. Of course Mr. Arthur Cunningham, the famous baritone, holds the centre of the stage and it is indeed a treat that is in store for the music loving people of this city.

Mr. Cunningham's name is so well known that it is unnecessary to say much about him; never was there a singer at the Tivoli Opera House who gained such popularity as he does and those who have heard him sing during his present visit declare that he is in even better voice than ever. The opera is a great favorite of Mr. Cunningham's and he takes the part of Captain Corcoran in his usual manner.

Miss Rourke who plays Josephine, the captain's daughter, needs no introduction as her exquisite soprano voice is known to all who love music and it is certain that her interpretation of the difficult part which she undertakes will be beyond reproach.

Miss Nixon as Buttercup will, of course, be charming. All those who have heard this clever lady well know what a treat is in store for them.

Mr. Morgan as Ralph, Mr. Atkinson as Dick Deadeye and Mr. J. B. O'Sullivan as the haughty Sir Joseph Porter K. C. B., will all be excellent. The remaining parts will be in the hands of the best talent in the city and with the chorus will help to make the entire production a success.

The opera is being rehearsed under the direct guidance of Mr. Cunningham who has been in the city for the past week and has personally attended each rehearsal giving every part the benefit of his many years experience up in the operatic stage, consequently a most finished performance may be expected.

PAPE AND HIS STATUES

Al Pape had his statues at work last evening at the Reno Wheelmen Club. Thus far he has about a dozen likely subjects and last evening was more than pleased with the results. It will take a number of rehearsals, however, before they are perfect in their work. These will be features of the entertainment planned by the Wheelmen in the near future.

Professor Muller, who is in charge of the boxing class of the club, is also busy. Professor Muller plans a number of entertainments during the winter in which his young amateurs will

WILL LET THE PEOPLE DECIDE

Council Places Petitions on File For and Against Municipal Ownership

Are the people of Reno opposed to municipal ownership of public utilities? The members of the city council are determined to have this question answered. Two petitions have been placed on file in the city hall, one favors the ownership of the water and light facilities. The other is opposed to this.

All citizens of the city are asked to visit the city hall and express their choice by signing one of the petitions. Upon the result of these petition will depend to a large extent what action will be taken. The property of the Hunter Creek company is understood to be one of the utilities sought by the city. The city is now negotiating with the officers of the Hunter Creek Company with this end in view.

Various estimates have been made as to the probable cost of these enterprises. Taxpayers, however, state that indebtedness is but a secondary consideration, for once acquired, the water and electric light works would in a few years pay for themselves.

Over the Edge Again

Another team and rig, hitched with dirt, backed over the edge on the embankment on the south side of the Virginia street bridge site yesterday morning. Driver and all went down the twenty-five feet decline and the accident created no little excitement. This is the third time such an accident has occurred, though no damage resulted.

Barndollar & Durley Purchase Controlling Interest in New Book for 1905

Messrs. Barndollar & Durley yesterday purchased the interest of J. P. Daley in the Reno and Washoe county directory for 1905. The young men already started their canvass and intend to get out a book that will be a credit to Reno. The information will be carefully gathered and compiled, inserting as perfect a directory as it is possible to publish. The gentlemen are also engaged in the printing business and will give their personal attention to every detail, guaranteeing that the work will not only be done in a first class manner but by union labor. Mr. Daley is exceptionally well qualified for the work, having assisted in publishing the last directory of Reno, issued early in 1904.

"I think that the population of Reno has increased nearly three thousand within the past two years," said Mr. Daley yesterday. "In the meantime half the population at least has changed residence. New business houses have opened and so far as the new residents are concerned the old book is now of little value."

Christmas Photos...

I say, Old Man, Dann would like to see you. Who is Dann? Never mind, that will be explained later, but what I want to talk to you about is this: You've been away from home a long time, havn't you? That dear old mother has been writing to you for a picture of her boy; or perhaps the wife that has been counting the days since you left the fireside would be made happy by a picture of the old man to show the little ones; or maybe the only girl on earth would like one to place on the mantel where she could look at it every once in a while; then every man has friends who would appreciate a picture of yourself, especially the fellow you have been out with 'many a time."

Now, old man, get busy. You owe all these good people one of your pictures. CHRISTMAS will soon be here and you want to get those photos home in time. Don't wait until the last gun is fired, because it might get cloudy. Then we are always rushed just before Christmas. Take a quiet tip. Go get a shave, clean collar, etc., and come and see us. TROUBLE OVER WATER SYSTEM

Councilman Claims That Company Has Not Lived Up to Its Agreement

Much trouble is being experienced by the city council in regard to the water to be furnished by the Washoe Power and Development Company for the city fire department. The council claims that the water company has not lived up to its agreement and is trying to "hedge" on the proposition made about three months ago. A member of the city council said yesterday in speaking of the affair:

"You may state that if the water company does not act in accordance with the agreement made several months ago in regard to putting in hydrants and plugs for the fire department that the citizens will discontinue taking water and light from the company and will dig wells and burn coal oil.

"The company agreed to have water in the city by the end of June. That has been more than three months ago and the city is still without water for the fire department. I do not think that this is a fair deal and the matter will be brought before the council at [illegible] meeting."

HOBOES LANDED BY OFFICERS

Four Desperate Looking Individuals Arrested Yesterday in Eastern Part of City

Four desperate looking hoboes were taken in tow by Officers Malay and Pollock yesterday in the eastern part of the city. The men have been in that locality for several days past and have been imposing on the good nature of the residents by making a practice of begging and have succeeded in frightening women in the neighborhood by their actions. They were charged with vagrancy and lodged in the city jail. Their hearing is set for this afternoon before Judge Pollock.

When found by the officers the men were camped in the eastern part of the town. They offered no resistance to the officers. The complaint was made by several residents of the locality in which the individuals have been operating.

The case of W. F. Pratt, charged with assault with intent to commit murder, will come up before Judge Pollock this morning at 10 o'clock. The prosecution will be handled by District Attorney Craig. Attorney Boyle of Reno will have charge of the defense.

HAPPENINGS AT STATE UNIVERSITY

Football on Campus Today

Second Eleven and High School Will Clash This Afternoon on the University Gridiron

'Tis true the big team has gone to Stanford to play, but they have left behind them the men who made them the first eleven the second. To these men is due much of the credit which will fall to the first this year, for they have made them what they are. Therefore we say all honor to the first, but don't let us forget the second when we give praise to the first team.

The second will play the Reno high school today on the university campus at 4 o'clock, admission free. Then on Saturday they will go to Carson and play the Indians at the Stewart Institute. The line-up will be:

This will also be the line up for the game at Carson Saturday.

Football Heroes Left Last Night

Will Meet Stanford Team on Palo Alto Gridiron Tomorow Afternoon

Nevada's football heroes left for Palo Alto last night where they will meet Stanford on the gridiron tomorrow afternoon. Eighteen men, including the manager and coach, will make the trip. The team left on the Tonopah express and [illegible] the departure the students paraded through the streets, singing college songs, giving college yells and holding a general jollification. The cadet band was out and rendered several selection at the train.

The students danced the waltz somewhere on Virginia street, something which has never been seen here before. This is a custom which has been in vogue at Berkeley and Stanford for many years but has never been practiced by the Nevada students.

The team is in fine [illegible] for the game with Stanford and left last night in the best of spirits. The improvement in play has been quite noticable this week.

"Cash" Smith has been with the team each evening since the game with Reliance and has imparted much valuable information to the men on the line as to the methods of play. The team will return Monday morning.

"WE SHALL SURELY FIGHT THE CASE"

T. K. Rogers, chairman of the board of county commissioners, was seen yesterday in regard to the suit instituted against the county by Corbett and Read. "We shall fight this case through. The several [illegible] presented to us by the county were rejected by us and payment refused for the reason that in our judgment the claims had no basis which he had no occasion to bring. Yes, we shall surely fight it," said the commissioner.

HIS ROCKY NECK MAY SAVE HIS LIFE

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 19—Judge Tuley presiding in the criminal court branch before which Robert Gardiner was tried for the murder of Agnes Morrison found guilty of murder and recommended for the severest punishment which the law inflicts, is in a peculiar predicament and has called a meeting of the bench for the purpose of considering the problem before him.

When Gardiner was brought before Judge Tuley to receive his death sentence the attorney for the prisoner created considerable sensation by stating he would ask that sentence should not be pronounced because it would be impossible to carry it out. He explained that his client is afflicted with one of the rarest diseases known to medical science, an ossification of the vertebrae of the neck and hardening of the cartilaginous tissues of the trachea, which would practically make it impossible to execute the man by hanging. It would be impossible to break his neck, because the vertebrae were grown together and it would equally be impossible to strangle him to death.

Professor Stoffenson of Rush Medical College, who testified as to the truth of this statement, said that Gardiner's case was one of only four cases of that disease on record. In view of the condition of the prisoner it is probable that he will be sentenced to imprisonment for life.

It is believed that this case will prove a strong argument in favor of the abolition of hanging and the adoption of electrocution as the legal method of executing criminals sentenced to death in this state.

Plan War on Tuberculosis

JOLIET, Ill., Oct. 19—The eleventh annual convention of the Federation of Women's Clubs opened here today and promises to be one of the most important meetings of that organization ever held. Among other important matters that will come up for consideration will be a plan for making war upon tuberculosis in this state. Committees will be organized for the purpose of co-operating with various other organizations of women and labor organizations with a view of suppressing the spread of the white plague among the poorer classes.

How Shall Colleges Be Conducted?

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 19—The ceremonies in connection with the installation of Edmund J. James as president of Illinois University began today and will extend over three days. One of the most important features in connection with the event will be the Inter-Collegiate conference, which began here yesterday. The conference which is attended by a large number of trustees of American colleges and universities will hold a number of session in which many important questions in regard to the management and the administration of colleges and universities will be discussed.

DEADLY WORK OF THE AUTO

The list of deaths and serious accidents, attributable to reckless automobile racing, continues to grow. Indeed the waste and useless sacrifice of human lives, to gratify the desires for speed of motor manufacturers and careless automobilists, is becoming a serious matter. Aside from the risk of losing one's life in excessive speed tests the danger is heightened by the faulty construction of tracks, and poor policing of them. Several serious accidents this year were due to these causes. It is impossible that the authorities of Long Island permitted the race for the W. K. Vanderbilt cup to take place over its peaceful roads. There should be some method by which the people could prevent such dangerous experiments as the Vanderbilt race.

TEACHING SAILORS ART OF SHOOTING

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 19.—For the purpose of making the men of the navy as proficient in the use of small guns as they are in the use of the big guns of their ships, the government is establishing a target range at Guantanamo, Cuba, that will be one of the most complete of its kind in the world. Guantanamo is regarded as an ideal place for rifle practice. The range is a reservation over which this government has control as a naval station and is removed from settlements so that practice of this character can be carried on with safety. A recent report to the department shows that already two hundred targets have been erected and when completed there will be five hundred. These ranges will be 200, 300, 600 and 1000 yards in length. The range will be utilized in the winter naval maneuvers. Suitable medals and other awards for excellence in marksmanship have been provided as incentives for the men to attain a high degree of efficiency. Divided according to their records, the men will be arranged in classes, so that the department will at all times know who the best shots of the navy are and where they are stationed.

FIGHT PHOTOS COMING TO RENO

The greatest reproduction ever shown is that of the Britt-Nelson fight which took place at Colma, Cal., Sept. 9th, under the directorship of James W. Coffroth. It is the most wonderful reproduction of every incident and every blow in the most stupendous contest of modern times.

The pictures are life sized and clear as a crystal and are vouched by the press and public as being the best moving pictures ever taken of any great public event. Every face in the tremendous throng which witnessed the great event in the open arena is recognizable.

James J. Jeffries, the famous world's champion and referee, is seen entering the ring and the people can almost be heard greeting him with applause.

These pictures will be seen here for the first time at the Opera House on Sunday and Monday, Oct. 22d and 23d.

SULLIVAN AND MILLS BOTH SENT TO JAIL

C. F. Sullivan was given a hearing yesterday morning in the justice court upon the charge of having stolen $40 from John Mills in the Swiss-American House on Center street Tuesday.

He pleaded guilty and was given a sentence of $100 or fifty days in jail. He is also serving the jail sentence.

When asked by Judge Pollock why he was guilty or not, Sullivan hesitated and then replied:

"I didn't take the money, but I might as well plead guilty."

Since the sentence it has been ascertained by the judge that he is an old offender, and is suspicioned of similar crimes.

"If I had known this at the time I would have given him a good deal heavier sentence," said His Honor.

The prosecuting witness, Mills, who got hopelessly drunk since the theft, and was arrested for creating a disturbance, was also fined $20 or ten days. During that time Mills will be seen on the chain gang.

HOW THE GAME IS BEING HURT

"The decadence of the once honorable sport of boxing was never made so evident as within the last few years. Crooked dealing is now become a part of the fighting game. The sport has fallen into such disrepute that honest men have no place in it. Indeed it is doubtful if the pugilistic arena contains a man who would not "fake" a fight if the proper inducements were offered. And then the boxers talk about the prejudice of legislators, who are trying to make their nefarious trade impossible."

SPEAKS WELL OF TONOPAH'S MINES

Veteran of Booming Camp Tells People of Salt Lake About the Country

J. J. Owens, one of the veterans of the Tonopah mining district, who went into that camp to begin operation when there were no indications of its present greatness is at the Cullen for a few days, attending to the Salt Lake end of some of his numerous investments in Nevada's great mineral zones, says the Salt Lake Tribune.

Mr. Owens is entirely satisfied with present conditions in the Nevada Eldorado. "More men at present are busy in Tonopah than ever before," he says, "and there are few idle men in the camp who really want work. At a conservative estimate there are 3500 workmen employed in and immediately about the camp, while the total population of the town is close to 8000."

Mr. Owens adds that the season's development has added materially to the previous good record made by the district. The Midway is now shipping steadily ores of high grade, the Mizpah has just added a third shift and is taking out pay rock in large quantities, while the Tonopah-Extension is looking better than ever with an increased output, and many new shafts are being sunk by newly arrived prospectors who have only recently entered the field. Much of this new work is being done on the strike of already opened veins and in the opinion of Mr. Owens substantial results must be believed from some of this development.

Speaking of the town of Tonopah, Mr. Owens says that fine buildings of stone have replaced many of the primitive structures of wood, that the water system is excellent and that first class schools now afford opportunities for the education of the young. While the cost of living is high compared with the prices of Utah towns, it must be remembered that the lowest wages paid to workmen are $4 per day, so that opportunities for saving money are in no degree lessened.

Mr. Owens, who spent the last twenty years of his life in mining camps throughout the West, says that taking everything into consideration, Tonopah presents the greatest future of any district with which he has become acquainted.

ACTIVITY IN PLUMAS CAMPS

Gennessee district, in Plumas county, California, is now the scene of active exploration work incident to the changing of ownership of a number of the old producing properties there.

Charles Grant, well known in this city, and James Kennedy, an experienced and reliable mining man, are now overlooking this field and have located a town site and a number of promising claims. These gentlemen report that for the past thirty years there has been very little work in a mining way but the indications point to great activity within a few months.

Within a month four strong companies have taken over extensive holdings and work is to be inaugurated on all of them on an extensive scale. The Gennessee district gives promise of being a very active producer within a very short time.

In several of these enterprises Reno men are the principal share holders and the contemplated operations will no doubt see a large force of men at work in this district.

In the majority of cases the properties changing hands have been large producers in the past and there is no reason to doubt that the future output will at least equal that of the earlier days.

RICH SAMPLES OF NEVADA ORE

Many Mining Districts Represented in This Demonstration of Remarkable Values and Large Leads

Mining men feel so vital an interest in this industry, in a general way, that specimen ore is at all times attractive, and while no pretense is made that such ore is an average of the lead, it is a conclusive demonstration that there are at least values in the vein worthy of earnest consideration, and which will, in itself, warrant a certain amount of exploitation being advanced. And it is such an exhibit from the mines in many districts of Nevada and California that is on exhibition in the window of A. A. Hibbard and D. C. Turner whose offices are at 106 Commercial Row, and these gentlemen, recognizing the fact of this universal demand and interest, have taken great pains to obtain samples of ore from as many mines in the districts in the states named as possible, and it is probable needless to add that this large display attracts much attention at all times, and no doubt a resume of the districts represented will be appropo. This review not only expresses the value but the material of the specimen and the depth at which it was obtained from the lead.

TEXAS-NEVADA WILL CUT THE LEAD AT 100 FEET

Shaft Has Attained Good Depth and Crosscut Is Being Advanced for Vein

The main working shaft, now being driven down by the Texas-Nevada Company, in Whitehorse district, has attained a depth of 100 feet and crosscuts started for the vein.

This is the property which was several months since taken over by the Texas-Nevada Gold Mine and Milling Company on the report of O. M. Pulor, who at that time made a very careful examination, not only of the No. 2 claim, but of other properties in Whitehorse district. Active work has been advanced ever since and as indicated above the shaft has now attained a depth of 100 feet and a crosscut from the bottom will cut the lead at this depth within the week.

This property is situated directly on the mineral belt which trends through Whitehorse district, and is surrounded by a number of properties which, within a few feet of the grass roots, have produced $1,000,000 in gold. In fact, no greater depth had been attained than 50 feet when the district was entitled to a record credit of this vast sum. The property itself has also been a producer and there is a well defined lead carrying a strong out crop from which very high values have been obtained.

Under Mr. Pulor's management, exploitation work has been rapidly advanced and it is very gratifying to know that it is very probable that a rich ore shoot will be encountered at an early date.

Texas people are behind this enterprise as well as a number of Reno citizens. The officers and directors are Dr. B. W. Whipple, president; D. D. Cooley, vice-president, capitalist; C. A. McKinney, assistant cashier South Texas National Bank; Dr. E. M. Foster, W. J. Dewhig, all of Houston, Texas; O. M. Pulor, Olinghouse, and Judge E. R. Dodge of Reno. Larry King, the well known Colorado mining engineer, is consulting engineer of the company.

This property lies just across California Avenue from the fashionable Lake's Addition, and in a short time will be equally desirable. We do not know of a piece of land of like size and location in the city at anything like the price. Indeed the land itself without the improvements is worth all we are asking for it..... $3,500

EDITORIAL COMMENT

THE GRIST OF THE CONSCIENCE MILL

CONSCIENCE, after all is not a lost art in New York City. There has been a tremendous raking up in many lines of life in that great city. Men of national reputation, leaders in all circles, social, mercantile, legal, financial and political have been stunned, as "the mills of the gods," which grind slowly, are showing that they are also "grinding exceeding small." Indeed, they are fairly pulverizing and flattening in the work they turn out. Men go in the mill puffed up, portly in person and self conceit, and they come out from between the rollers so exceedingly flat and thin, that they might easily be taken for the shirt fronts that they used to wear in their full dress at banquets and meetings called for the betterment of the public interests. But conscience, finding there is so much less of them to handle, is moving them to remarkable acts.

Armitage Matthews, quailing before his trial for looting an estate, plunged head-first to the pavement. James H. Hyde, the perfumed darling is skulking around the danger line and is expecting to expatriate him. Depew, the jaunty and really agreeable senator, drops the Republican convention that once did him high honor. The list is too long to quote in full, but enough is shown to make sure that the "conscience that makes cowards of us all" is cutting wide swathes in the ranks of the outwardly respectable and inwardly rascally men in whom the public has believed.

Who is to succeed the dethroned? Mr. Alexander is no longer President of the Equitable. There are others that predict that Mr. John A. McCall of the New York Life, and Mr. Richard A. McCurdy of the Mutual Life, will follow in his footsteps. If this proves a true prophecy, who will take their places and reproduce the results these men learned in insurance, wisdom and methods during the years they have ruled the insurance. Large fortunes have been made but we must remember that it came from piles that these past-masters of insurance, and perhaps we may as well say, assurance has heaped to a huge height. First class insurance men who know the business from the bottom, will have to be chosen as their successors. Of course, there will be several years of poor results, from the ripping and tearing that has startled the world, but after that the revenues must be up to past figures or the public will be disappointed. It won't do to produce a situation in which the looters are made to appear to have been more profitable to their companies despite the stealings than the successors who will turn every penny in the treasuries and leave it there.

ABE RUEF has lost his temper. It's the only thing Abe ever lost in his life.

THE Southern Pacific is going to build into Mexico. Diaz had better hurry up if he wants to die as a ruler of his country.

A SAN FRANCISCO paper infers that a clubman is mad because he runs naked through the town. That's a daily occurence among clubmen in the Fiji islands.

THE action of the San Francisco grand jury in returning an indictment against Chillian Bowen shows that the members of that body are no disciples of the art of "murder made easy."

HENRY WATTERSON writes of society in the Cosmopolitan. A man should never desert his forte: Henry can write charmingly of whisky, but in discussing society he wanders far afield.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT has informed Secretary Shaw that Miss Alice Roosevelt must pay duty on those presents received abroad. And the family continues to use the usual amount of news space.

IF you think the insurance magnates of this country are not getting all that is coming to them in the way of money and riches, go out to Morristown and note the princely grandeur in which some of them live.

A COLORADO woman weighing 115 lbs carried her wounded husband weighing 155 lbs., a quarter of a mile up a steep trail. Now we can understand why some big husbands are afraid of their little wives.

THE Czar has undertaken the task of weeding out his naval incompetents. Ambrose Bierce remarks that his majesty no longer has the assistance of Admiral Togo, whose methods to seaweed them out was most effectual.

OF course it had to be in Chicago that a murderer was discovered whose neck is so tough that he can't be hanged. While the case is not without its regrettable features, it affords another example of the value of not being a rubber-neck.

A NEGRO murderer who had the bad fortune to fall into the hands of some Kentucky lynchers saw his finish on an apple tree. He probably felt a little bit stuck-up over the resemblance of his fate to that of Father Adam.

THERE has been a Russian business in the shape of rioting on the Nevsky Prospect and it assays rich in troubles.

TEN thousand dollars has been sent by J. Pierpoint Morgan to the Italian earthquake sufferers. If it was New York Life money he would have made it fifty thousand probably.

CANDIDATE PARTRIDGE promises the people of San Francisco plenty of water in case he shall be elected. Candidate Schmitz sees that they get plenty of whisky. Our money is on Schmitz.

THE man who persuaded Horace Greeley to run for president has just died, aged eighty-three. He probably hung onto this life just as long as he could to avoid a meeting with Horace on the other shore.

MRS. CLARENCE MACKAY has donated another $3,000 to some New York kindergarten. Her husband ought to put his thinking cap on some time and endow a miners' home in Nevada, where the money came from.

IN a few days the trustees of the Equitable will hold a meeting and report progress. In the light of recent developments regarding some of the other old-line companies, the revelations in respect to the Equitable management make tame reading.

SIR HENRY IRVING was a man of fine artistic sense, but he never showed it so thoroughly as when he dropped his real name of Broadribb. A Broadribb playing Hamlet is almost unthinkable. Would that one Otis Skinner had the grace to do as Irving did.

GEORGE W. PERKINS and J. Pierpont Morgan jr., have left for a trip to Russia. The sound of hammering from the Muscovite empire is not the knockers at work on Sergius Witte but indicates a frantic effort on the part of the people to nail down St. Petersburg.

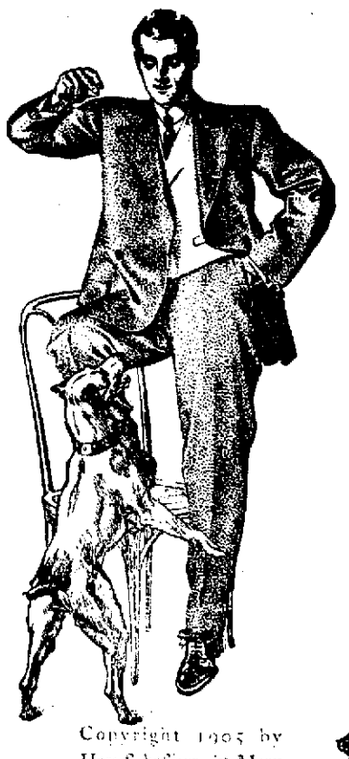

THE Liberals of Norway are trying to get the legislative body of that country to give the people a chance to vote for a republic. Of course the life insurance disclosures in this, the foremost republic of the world, would be apt to strengthen the confidence of the Norwiegans in a republican form of government—we don't think.
